Good Times On A Daily Basis

Becky Venhuizen tries to prove that she is taller than Stephanie Kimray.

Todd Felkel is trying to talk Joel Frye out of going home for the weekend.

Cameron Clark and Scott Willis in a little "public display of affection."

A year at the Webb brings new friendships and the discovering of hidden talents. Sometimes, you just have to get away from the daily routine to see a concert or go home for some of mom's cooking.

Friends, Games, Music, and Fun!

Catdaddy "unplugged" rocks the quad.

This food is really not worth fighting over!

"Once in an age, God sends to us someone who loves us not alone with emotions but with understanding – a friend."

MIDNIGHT MASQUERADE

It was a night of mystery and enchantment. The "Midnight Masquerade" had begun. The LYCC was eloquently decorated with hot fuscias, deep greens and blues. There was a gazebo in the center the disguised the ordinary appearance of the auditorium. Carole Roberts entered the masquerade dressed to kill. Little did she know that she would be the 1993 Spring Formal Queen.

A UNIVERSITY AFFAIR

As graduation nears, bonds strengthen between friends, who know that distance from each other will increase soon. Joy and sadness compete for the heart, and clouds of anxiety threaten before excitement about the future takes over. The members of the 1993 graduating class know they will never forget the home they found at Gardner-Webb four short years ago. When the day finally arrives, once again the traditional caps and gowns fill the college green in a blaze of color. Students listen as speakers give them a final charge for the future.

What makes this graduation ceremony unique is that these students are the first to receive a diploma from Gardner-Webb University. They had seen Gardner-Webb grow and prepare for university status during their four years here.

As the students march in to "Pomp and Circumstance," overwhelming feelings of pride and accomplishment fill their hearts. They know they have worked hard for this day and have succeeded.

The faculty and staff sit through their first university graduation.

Yoshihiko Shinano is the first Dohto student to gain a GWU degree.

Amy Sharpe, Harrison Dean, and Mark Ackerman anxiously await for "Pomp and Circumstance."

Days To Remember!

Excitement filled the air as Homecoming Week began. The theme, "Let Us Entertain You" was carried throughout the week. An illusionist, Craig Karges, entertained the student body on Wednesday night. Then, on Thursday night the students entertained themselves with bowling at Shelby Lanes. Friday, the Catdaddy Reunion brought many faces back to GWU. The students then proceeded with their annual toilet papering of the campus. Finally on Saturday, the events culminated with the parade and the annual football showdown. Many people came out to see the parade of floats and bands. The Student Alumni Council won the float competition with the theme "Lettuce Entertain You." Nanney Hall won the hall decorating contest. At halftime, Fran Mabrey was crowned the queen after all the attendants were introduced. All in all, Homecoming 1993 was a success and everyone was truly entertained!

Fran Mabery

Fran,a very busy person, has been involved not only as a Religious Education major but also in activities ranging from BSU, Focus Teams, to Alpha Chi, to the Honors Program. As a graduating senior, Fran has learned many things in her years at GWU. The years have helped her to know more about who she is. She wants to be remembered as one who tries to grasp as much joy from life as possible. It is obvious through her attitude that she has reached her goals. After graduation, Fran plans to get married this August and then continue her education in graduate school.

Matt Rice

Remembering the many great times "hangin' with the fellas," Matt feels that Gardner-Webb has influenced him as an individual and most importantly as a Christian. Being involved in SAA, SAC, FCA and BSU has made Matt a well-rounded person. He feels the biggest change in GWU is the transition from the college to the university status along with the prestige that has followed this change. His plans for the future include either seminary or working. His long term goal is to be actively involved in the ministry.

"Wherever God wants me to go I'll go," says Paula as she looks forward to graduation. She finds the transition to a university a major change for her soon to be Alma Mater. Being involved on FOCUS teams, yearbook, SEA, and RHA has helped her to become a well-rounded person. She feels this led to the discovery of new things about herself everyday. She will remember the lifelong friends she has made at GWU as she moves forward to teach in the Charlotte area or on the mission field.

Feeling that graduation will be the best thing after traveling the road leading to it, Jeff is traveling on. Along with Residence Life, Judicial Board, and SAC the friendships made here will be something he carries with him. Plans for the future include graduate school and becoming a productive member of society. He would like to be remembered for the friendships, the laughs, and the good times he offered as his Gardner-Webb experience comes to a close.

With graduation nearing, Andrew realizes the best things that happened to him while at GWU were the positive changes he went through. Learning how to study, the rise in maturity level, and most importantly the transition from football to tennis and to the development he experienced while at Gardner-Webb. Andrew was active in NRHH, RHA, and yearbook. He also served as the Senior RA, served on the student action teen network, and was on the tennis team. Drew plans to work as an admissions recruiter after graduation and eventually work for a major movie industry.

"Transferring into Gardner-Webb was one of the better decisions that I have made," said Jenny, "I came here to find a warm friendly atmosphere that encouraged learning and that was what I found." Jenny has made the most of her time at GWU. She serves as the publicity coordinator for SAC, is on the yearbook staff, and served as the student coordinator for the Annual Funds drive. She is best known for her Peace College stories. Any time you see Jenny on campus she is wearing a beautiful smile and is following her energetic spirit. Her future plans include working as a Youth Director for the Raleigh YMCA or working in public relations for Peace College.

Greg Carpenter

Greg feels that he has changed a lot from his freshman year. He transformed from a timid introvert to an inquisitive introvert. Gardner-Webb has changed a lot since he first came here, along with his perception of GWU. He made many close friendships here that he knows will last a lifetime. Greg would like to be remembered as a dedicated journalist. He leaves a legacy in the form of a transformed and improved student newspaper, The Pilot. After graduation, his career goals include print journalism and eventually ownership of a small, local radio station.

Mark sees the biggest change in himself as having matured and grown into a person who set his own goals. It was through hard work and dedication that he accomplished those goals. What he will remember most about GWU are the friendly people and the life-long friends he has made here. Mark is thankful for the chance to excel in his leadership abilities in various clubs and organizations that were a part of his years here at GWU. After graduation, Mark plans to attain his Masters Degree in Business.

Ginger wants to be remembered as someone who brought smiles and laughter into other lives, and that she genuinely cared about people with the love of Christ. She admits being here at GWU for four years had "broadened" her horizons. "I've matured a lot, and gained a sense of responsibility not only for myself, but for the people that can't do or speak for themselves."
The best thing that has happened to Ginger while at GWU was "I went beyond meeting Jesus to knowing Him, and ultimately I grew up." She believe growing up and learning are the best things in life!

Shelley wants to be remembered for her "caring heart" and the joy she receives by doing things for others. Shelley is so many things, a great friend, a strong Christian and a hard working young woman . . . who will succeed.

For Shelley, the biggest change during her four years at GWU has been her continued spiritual growth and learning to have a personal relationship with Christ. She admits the best thing that has happened to her has been the friendships and relationships she has established with students, faculty and with God.

His biggest change is that he has more confidence in his own abilities. Steve wants to be remembered for "being real and caring about other people." He says the best thing that has happened to him while at GWU has been his growth spiritually and musically, and making good Christian friends. Steve plans to work as a Minister of Music and eventually travel as a Music Evangelist.

Angela Henderson

Smiles! Kindness! Who could these two words describe? Angie Henderson! One of the best things that happened to Angie at GWU is when she met Jon Laughlin, her boyfriend. She feels that she has become more independent since coming to GWU. What she will remember most are the friendly, smiling faces, and her French classes. Angie has two goals she is striving for after graduation. One of them is to teach French while being married and having a family. Her other goal is to receive her Masters Degree.

Seniors

Todd Davis

Nobody thought that is was possible for Todd Davis to actually leave the library before it closed. However, one night he was able to leave before the 10 minute alarm rang. Todd feels that he has gained more self confidence and has learned responsibility since he came to GWU. Todd would like to obtain a teaching job near the mountains and help provide to children the knowledge they will need. In the future, Todd wants to get married and coach on the collegiate level.

Raymond Jennings

Looking back at his freshman year, Raymond says his own willingness to learn has been the biggest change in himself. He doesn't have any specific plans after graduation, except to take advantage of any opportunities that will help him become successful. For Raymond, the best thing that happened to him at GWU was meeting his girlfriend. When asked what he wanted to be remembered for most at GWU, he said, "I would just like to be remembered! Anytime you come through in a large crowd and can be remembered as an individual . . . that's good enough!"

Jason Carmack

"Cares for others, has a great sense of humor, and strove to walk with God daily." This description could only fit one person, Jason Carmack. Jason feels that he has matured and is able to handle responsibility. He has shown that responsibility through his involvement in Alpha Chi, Honors Program, FOCUS, and intramurals. In the future, Jason is planning on getting married in August and will attend seminary. He wants to eventually become a professor of the Old Testament, Greek, and Hebrew.

Seniors look forward to their last year, last class, last test, and their last walk across the stage for the one thing that they have been working so hard for over the past few years, their diploma! Seniors start the year looking forward to Homecoming, Spring Formal, and many other activities that identify their final year at Gardner-Webb University.

What will you remember most about GWU?

"The close friends that I have made, not only with the students, but also with the faculty and staff."

Beverly Cooper

"My freshman year will be the most memorable to me; that year saw large growth. I learned to be more respectful of other's beliefs and personalities, and stand up for my beliefs, as a Christian. I also developed many friendships, some of the best I will ever have."

Kevin Walter

The thing that I will remember most about GWU are the friends that I have met here that have turned out to be some of the best friends of my life."

Michelle Hill

CHANGES

"I remember when I was your age and I had to walk 3 miles in the snow, barefoot, to get 3 hotdogs for $1.00 at the Pantry." Yes, you too may one day say this to your kids when they ask you for a weekend loan. Our society has changed from the day our parents walked to Alaska and back to borrow milk from the neighbors. Along with these changes came inflation that was felt by every industry. Think back to your high school days. Even a candy bar and a pack of gum cost more than it did a couple of years ago. How is a college student supposed to survive? The prices we complain about now may be the ones we wish for when we have kids at GWU (scary thought). We think that GWU is expensive now, just wait. Our only hope is that Taco-Bell will still have their $.59 value menu. Out of sympathy we thought we would list a few of today's prices that you complain about and will wish for in the future. Society changes, people change, and prices change (for the worst). Our only hope, wish, and prayer is that our present finances will also change — for the better.

|---|---|---|---|
| Coca-Cola | $0.65 | Compact Disc | $15.00 |
| Movie | $5.50 | Baseball Cap | $15.00 |
| Gas | $1.09 | Concert | $17.50 |
| Taco | $0.59 | Football Game | $ 6.00 |
| Candy Bar | $0.55 | Cheeseburger | $ 0.79 |
| Tuition | $11,980 | Haircut | $12.00 |

If you could change one thing about GWU what would it be?

"The academics and the requirements for being accepted to GWU."

Jonathan Jones

"I would want a brand new music building."

Jennifer Carlton

"I would want a different variety of food in the cafeteria. I also would like to see more campus activities."

Kevin Porter

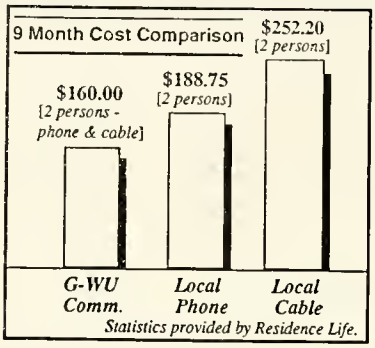
Residence Life collects new 'communications' fee.



Over the holidays, my sister and I saw Carrot Top, the comedian, with friends. It was one of the last things we did with one friend of ours.

On January 4, 1993, Jason Brown, our friend, passed away in an automobile accident on the way to our house.

Let me introduce you to Jason, who I only got to know recently. He was best friends with my sister - a true friend. He loved to spend money, especially on clothes and always dressed exceptionally well.

He was infatuated with Madonna, but we won't hold that against him. He was very charismatic and full of life. He sang off key.

Now, I'm not one to make any New Year's resolutions, but I will make an exception this year. I think that I will appreciate more fully the life God gave me.

Sure Jason is in a better place now, but I like to believe God put us here for other reasons than to bide our time until we go home to Him.

My new roommate, Kevin, gave me a book to read the other day, I Got a Job (And It Wasn't That Bad) or something like that. It was an illustrated book, an everyday journal, recounting the mediocrity of life after college.

It was scary, but I saw myself in that book. We all have our routines, and sometimes the routine takes over your life whether it's your soaps, a video game, school work or the student newspaper.

My resolution for the new year is that to make my life better, I will start living, not merely existing. Life is precious and not something to be taken for granted.

It's not like I was a hermit before, I just never appreciated fully all the experiences I go through each day.

I'm glad we got tickets to see Carrot Top, I laughed my behind off and so did everybody else, especially Jason.

Freshmen invade Gardner-Webb in record numbers

by Kevin Walter
staff writer

Many of you have probably heard someone say that this year's freshman class is the largest ever. Well, they were correct. The actual count was 337 on 8-31-93. This beat the prior largest class at G-W, the class of 1989, which had 330 freshman enrolled.

Gridiron woes continue for Bulldogs

Professor up and kicking after heart episode

by Greg Carpenter
staff writer

Earlier this summer, Dr. Bill Stowe, professor of English and communications, gave his colleagues, students, family, and himself quite a scare.

While at Myrtle Beach, Stowe had a heart episode brought on by what was later found to be a kink in an artery leading to the heart.

Stowe had to go through a surgical procedure to straighten out the artery. This lead to a two-week hospital stay.

The hospital stay has not kept Stowe away from Gardner-Webb at the start of this fall semester though. After missing the first day of classes, Stowe surprised students by returning the next day.

Stowe says that he is feeling good, but he does feel tired, as is to be expected after going through such an ordeal.

Dr. Stowe is also the advisor of The Pilot and The Webb, our annual. On behalf of student publications, we would like to say how thankful we are that you are OK and don't let us catch you with another cigarette!

Parking Wars continue in fall

The parking (or lack of) saga has a sequel this year. The parking lot in front of Bost Gym fromerly used by Spangler/Myers residents is now off limits to that group.

The parking lot is now reserved for commuting students. Residents of Myers and Spangler will be ticketed if they park their cars in this area.

Parking Ticket Tip

■ Parking tickets are often voided in the first few weeks of school if taken to Safety and Security propmtly. Cheif Helton is looking for compliance, not your book money.

Residents of Myers/Spangler will now have to park behind the residence hall or the end of the hall facing away from campus, in areas which are unpaved, and behind the Lutz-Yelton Convocation center which is used for parking during events held in the LYCC.

With this change, the residents of Myers/Spangler has no paved parking to be used soley for the parking of residents.

Faculty, students share blame for parking problems

by Kevin Walter
staff writer

Where can I park? That is a question on the minds of many people at Gardner-Webb.

The problem lies in illegal parking. Dean Scott reported to the Campus Life committee that security has been busy writing tickets this semester.

Possible residence hall switch in the works

NEW VISITATION IN EFFECT

by Greg Carpenter
staff writer

New visitation hours officially went into effect last weekend in each residence hall.

As reported in the last issue of The Pilot, the Student Senate passed a proposal for extended visitation hours.

After the proposal was passed, it was sent to the dean of student development's office, where Be. Jerome Scott, the dean, approved the proposal.

At the last GWU Board of Trustees meeting, Scott was given the authority by the trustees to pass extended weekend visitation privileges.

Official Visitation Hours

Friday 3 p.m. – 12 a.m.
Saturday 12 p.m. – 12 a.m.
Sunday 1 p.m. – 10 p.m.

THE PILOT takes A Look Back . . .

In honor or Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Traditions cannot be easily changed

The board of trustees of G. W. College has decided to ban any negro students from admission to the school. The decision was made in compliance with the North Carolina State Baptist Convention's ruling on the subject which says that each school under the guidance of the Convention may decide for itself whether or not it will admit Negro students.

The decision was adopted in the form of a resolution which reads as follows: " - - - because the preponderant majority of the constituency of Gardner-Webb College reporting their opinion in the survey conducted by a special committee appointed for the purpose was decidedly against the admission of Negro students, and because the college cannot operate without their whole-hearted support, and because the student body was divided substantially on the problem, we, as a board of trustees, express as our opinion, that we are not ready for the admission of Negroes to Gardner-Webb College."

This decision is one of great magnitude which most of our Baptist colleges have had to face. This problem cannot and will not be solved in a short time. Not until Christian people are able to look on all men as their brothers, sons of their Heavenly Father, and deserving of privileges such as their own, can it be expected that state schools and political groups will find it necessary or even possible to assure the same attitude. Many questions arise from this subject and the "evils" of integration have been aired time and time again. How then can people state in their creed of religion that God "hath made of one blood all nations of men" and at the same time discriminate against them? This contradiction can only be explained by saying that the traditions and practices of generations cannot be easily changed; not until man wants them to change.

Traditions Cannot Be Easily Changed; The Pilot; March, 1956; page 2; no byline ( only spelling is corrected in Look Back articles; structure, capitalization etc. is original).

Cherishing G-W memories

I will soon be an alumnus of Gardner-Webb University and with much more experience now than I has as a freshman, I can see the wisdom of choosing Gardner-Webb as my alma mater. At times I too, as a student, have criticized Gardner-Webb, and I am thankful for the freedom to criticize. Painful as it may be, criticism forces institutions and people alike to channel their energy into the task at hand. It forces us all to stay focused on growth and betterment.

But for moment, I want step aside from criticism and praise our school. I came to receive a strong academic education, and I have. I came to be immersed in a Christian environment, and I have been. I came to be more than number on a computer, to actually be a person, known by name to more than those few I am acquainted with, and I am. I came so that I could get involved in various activities and through them grow as a person, and I have. I did not come specifically seeking to have professors become my friends nor did I come expressly to meet those people whom I will cherish and enjoy keeping up with for the rest of my life, but graciously I have received these and many more things. As I come closer to the end of my college years I realize that ten years from now it will not matter if I liked the cafeteria food, or enjoyed every Dimensions program or if the SGA Constitution was just right. What will matter are the other things, the things I came to Gardner-Webb looking for and found.

Constitution passage hits a snag

by Greg Carpenter
staff writer

The Student Senate will be going back to review the new constitution it has already passed,on a recommendation by the Student Life Committee.

The Student Life Committee met on October 8 to give recommendations concerning the new Student Government Association Constitution which has already been passed and voted into effect by the Student Senate.

It was recommended by the committee to review the constitution, with outside help, in order to correct language and inconsistencies present in the document.

Students were scheduled to vote on the new constitution on October 12, but the voting will be postponed until the document is revised.

Students were invited to comment on the new constitution and some students did respond. Their comments were heard by the committee and the members of the executive body of SGA.

BULLDOG FOOTBALL

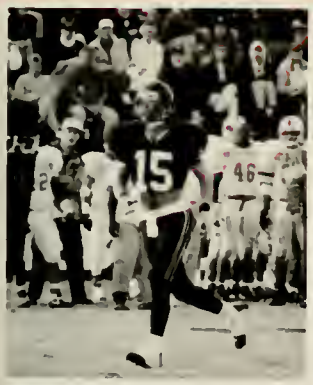
The 1993 Runnin' Bulldogs Football Team had a tough season before them. First of all, the move from the NAIA to the NCAA proved to be a test of strength and motivation for the team. Secondly, they were coming off a 1992 winning season in which they were the NAIA National Championship Runner-up. All of these proved to make the season very difficult. The Bulldogs fought hard and tried their best to make this season an enjoyable one for everyone involved.

The offense was lead by John Craven, who averaged over 200 yards a game. Philip Keefe, Lonnie Custer, and Steve Duncan led the passing game, each with numerous receptions and touchdowns. Derrick Scott led the rushing game. They were the receivers and the running backs who put our points on the board. The offensive line proved to be a force to be reckoned with this season. Chad Grimmett, Jon Laughlin, and Brian Linder led the offensive line this year.

The defense, who lost a few key players after last season, had a struggle this year. They tried hard and proved that the Gardner-Webb football team will again be a force to be reckoned with in the years to come.

"It was a season with a lot of ups and downs. I think we accomplished more than people thought because of the ups and downs we had to go through," says Philip Keefe.



Lonnie Custer was one of the top receivers this season.

Misty and Trish smash it through the Erskine blocker.

SERVING UP A CHALLENGING SEASON!!!

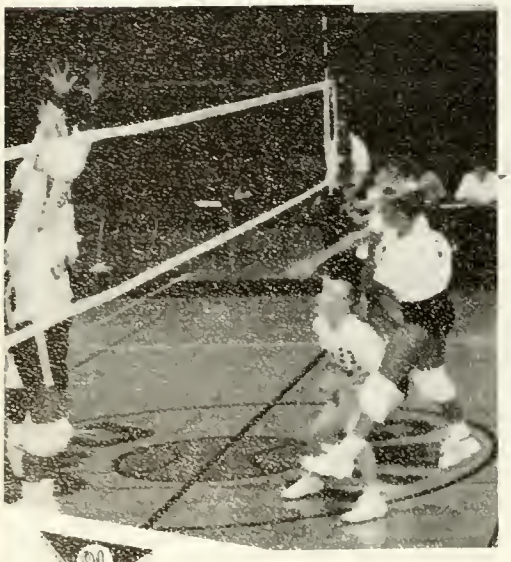
The 1993 GWU volleyball team, coached by Donna Robertson, faced a challenging season. With Tricia Holfelder as the only senior player, the Lady Bulldogs looked to underclassmen for strong leadership. The young team came together with one common goal — to win!

Misty zaps the ball across the net.

Kristi goes for the setup after Regan's hit.



Regan spikes one over the net.

KICKIN' FOR A SUCCESSFUL YEAR!

The men's soccer team finished a respectable season after a slow start. The team was led by seniors Mike Walker, Brian Espinoza, and Chris Pearson. The women finished with a commendable mark, and are focused on a better season next year. Seniors Denise Blair and Kelly Holland provided strong leadership. Both teams worked diligently on a successful year.

Dr. Alexandre Strokanov has brought a warm presence to replace the cold relationship that had existed between the U.S. and the former U.S.S.R. He has worked hard to fulfill his academic assignments here, but most important is his work to bring better understanding between the two cultures.

Dr. Strokanov's "assignment in America" began with his relationship to a summer tour group to Russia, composed of faculty staff, and community members and led by Dr. Blackburn. Arrangements were made, and soon he, his wife Natalie, and his daughter Victoria became totally emersed in the culture of Boiling Springs, North Carolina. Except for a few "reversals" in his driving style, Dr. Strokanov has provided enlightment for all involved. He may also have gathered a few experiences that will play well back home, and his English is becoming distinctly Southern in flavor.

At home, Dr. Strokanov is deputy director of the Federation of Children's Organizations. Here, because of his visit to the Social Sciences Department and his many pleasant exchanges in Cleveland County, he has become deputy director of global understanding, a kind of warming that is most welcome.

The student newspaper, The Pilot, is written, edited, and published solely by students in an effort to inform the student body concerning happenings on campus.

The Pilot has made an effort this year to focus on its history through its "Look Back" column to commemorate Gardner-Webb's first complete year as a university. Also, many standing features such as Faculty Q & A, Beyond the Score, and the Forum give students a chance to learn more about personalities on campus and to speak their minds.

Also The Pilot is making an effort to publish more regularly, from once a month to bi-weekly, to become a true medium for information exchange.

The Pilot has gone through many transformations, as a magazine, a newspaper, and a newsletter. In its current form, The Pilot strives to be a competent newspaper as well as a medium for entertainment and the exchanging of ideas.

YEARBOOK STAFF

The 1994 Web staff would like to thank Mr. Greg Carpenter for all of his help with the production of this book. We credit the division pages, page numbers, and some copy to his name. This yearbook would definitely not have been possible without his dedication. You will be greatly missed next year by the yearbook staff. We wish you the best of luck in your future plans.

The 1994 Web staff hopes that this has been a wonderful year for everyone. We hope that you enjoy looking at this book as much as we enjoyed putting it together for you. The staff would like for you to remember that change is good. We hope that we have produced a book that changes the way people think about yearbooks. Our major theme this year was change, and we hope that throughout this book you will remember that special dance, talk, class, relationship, or friend that changed your life.

GOLDILOCKS AND THE THREE BEARS

David Hawes, Garrick Scott, and Tim Chilton appeared in To Kill a Mockingbird.

Amalie Hinson and Jason Dula appeared in Mozart's The Magic Flute.

The GWU opera presented Goldilocks and the Three Bears and The Magic Flute.

Jason was the papageno in The Magic Flute.

The GWU theatre presented The Magic Flute and Goldilocks and the Three Bears using staff, faculty, and students. In Goldilocks and the Three Bears, Dr. Eastman, Coach Fish, and Audrey Sloan each appeared as the bears. Also presented was To Kill a Mockingbird, and Hello Dolly. Each one of the presentations were very well attended. The actors made the plays come to life with unbelievable props and costumes. This was an excellent year for GWU theatre.

GOAL, Graduate, and MBA . . .

Dr. Gravett (left) was promoted to Dean of Graduate Studies this year and continues to build a program of integrity. Her professionalism is appropriate to the area of graduate work, and the number of quality of the students continue to increase. Because the emphasis is graduate education, Dr. Gravett is undertaking a number of steps to improve the accountability of the graduates, including completing a review by NCATE.

Joyce Guyette has joined the staff this year to assist in the Graduate Office (below).

Joyce Mull (top right), Graduate Office Administrative Assistant, is sometimes surprised by a photographer who just pops in.

Lisa Fitch (right) assists Mr. Thompson in duties of the GOAL office.

Evan Thompson (right) is Dean of the adult education program called GOAL, Greater Opportunities for Adult Learners. His work includes supervising a number of centers, some as far away as Surrey County and some as close as the campus itself. Mr. Thompson also coordinates faculty assignments and schedules, assisted by Joan Whiteheart. New to the GOAL staff this year is Martha Wilder, a graduate of GWU undergraduat and graduate programs and advisor to Broyhill students in GOAL.

A University on the Move

Begun just this year in the Broyhill School, the MBA program has a respectable number of students, including several from the Gardner-Webb University staff. The program was designed and implemented by Dr. Smedley (who departed at mid-year) but is presently being led by James Hartman (above). The second year is expected to attract even more students, and several new professors are being recruited to teach in this area. Area businessmen and women can enrich their experiences and expand their opportunities by attaining a GWU MBA.

UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATION

Through his leadership roll over his administrative staff, Dr. M. Christopher White, President of Gardner Webb University, has brought the institution to amazing heights. During the school's first full year as a university, President White once again showed excellent foresight into the needs of GWU.

Z

Zamrok, Kim A.

This has been a very interesting year for me. I have learned about responsibility and the balancing of time. I have learned that GWU is here to help you, and that the people here are your friends, and want you to succeed. GWU has definitely changed my life. I have grown and begin to understand what is really happening in the world. GWU is a wonderful place to be taught this lesson. I have enjoyed my two years here, and hope to have two more wonderful years at GWU.

I would like to thank my parents who have supported me through this year. You have loved and supported me not only through this endeavor, but throughout my whole life. I love both of you for this and could not imagine my life without you.

I would like to thank Dr. Stowe for the opportunity that you have given me. I hope that this book makes you proud. You have helped me grow as a person and a student. I know sometimes you doubted me and wondered what I was doing, but have I proved that I did know what I was doing?

I would like to thank Greg Carpenter. Without your help, I would never have been able to accomplish this. You have helped me more than you will ever know. I will never be able to repay you for what you have done for me. You are a wonderful friend that I will never forget. I wish you the best of luck after graduation, and if you ever need anything I'm always here.

I would like to thank all my friends who have supported me and told me that I was still allowed to have fun. Laura, Debbie, Jenn, Jennifer, Angela, Andrea, thank you for sticking by me.

I would like to thank my wonderful staff, who helped in more ways than you will ever know. I love each one of you, and I have enjoyed working with you'll this year.

My deepest gratitude to the people that helped me identify people and take pictures.

I hope that everyone enjoys looking at the book as much as I have enjoyed putting it together. I hope that through this book, I have captured the memories and events of the year that means something to everyone. I also hope that the years to come, that this book will make a lasting impression on your memory of the '93-'94 school year.
